Studio Spotlight: Eastside Sound

NYC's Lower East Side recording studio

Eastside Sound recording studio, which calls New York City's lower East Side its home, has worked with artists of nearly all musical genres such as Les Paul, Santana, Mariah Carey, Sevendust, Joss Stone, Sting, Pat Metheny, and System of a Down as well as corporate clients like HBO, MTV, VH1 and Target.

Marc Urselli, producer and engineer at Eastside Sound, is a long time supporter of IK products, such as Classik Studio Reverb, which can be found in both rooms at Eastside Sound, and AmpliTube 2, which is used at the studio on both guitar and vocal tracks.

On CSR: "It's certainly nice to have a plug-in that is not too resource-intensive but still sounds very good and CSR definitely fits that description...This is one of my go-to reverbs in the digital domain because it has a great tone, richness and full body. Portability and the ability to re-open a session...is a really key factor in the choice of a digital plug-in reverb...the whole staff loves it!"

On AmpliTube 2: "AmpliTube 2 is a really great sounding plug-in which I really love. AmpliTube 2 has been one of my distortion plug-ins of choice for a long, long time. The ability to re-open a session and tweak a sound is priceless."
